FOR PRESIDENT - - - - - WILLIAM H. TAFT
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT - - - JAMES S. SHERMAN

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

MR. BRYAN EDITORIALIZES.

William Jennings Bryan's disapproving editorial on the Republican platform is certainly long, and it may be wide, but there is really ground for the conclusion that it is not very deep. It is confined mostly to quibbles. It is the sort of pin-sticking that the person without real ground for fault-finding, yet a feeling that he must find it, is wont to indulge in, says the Oakland Tribune.

Referring to the expression that through the President "the highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice," Mr. Bryan points out how this reflects on previous Republican Presidents. According to his way of looking at it, the sentence, "American manhood has been lifted to a noble sense of duty and obligation" implies an admission that up to this time American manhood has not been elevated through any of the policies and achievements of the Republican party. Here is an extract from the editorial that especially illumines the Bryan contention:

"The President must resent the fact that the platform expresses no gratitude to the Democratic members and Senators for supporting him when the Republicans deserted him." Here is another that is simply unanswerable: "How does the President like being bracketed with Republican Senators and members of Congress in this indiscriminate praise?"

Mr. Bryan goes on to seriously observe that "not only does the platform fail to give the Democrats credit for helping the President to lift up American manhood to a noble sense of duty and obligation, but it actually condemns the filibuster which the Democratic minority instituted," etc.

There is no footnote or other sign suggesting that Mr. Bryan is attempting a joke or even sarcasm in such charges; apparently his editorial is intended as a serious and sweeping expose of Republican chicanery.

The currency bill is damned beyond recovery by the statement that "through the influence of a few financiers" it was rushed through in the closing hours. "The trust plank must prove a disappointment" because "there is no demand for a rigid enforcement of the law."

The plank favoring legislation to prevent over-issue of stocks and bonds is good, but there is something the matter with it because the convention "sat down" on La Follette's amendment in connection therewith, which would have made it better.

The resolution denouncing the disfranchisement of the negro Mr. Bryan regards as pure buncombe, because the party would like to have the negro vote. It is, of course, inferred that for genuine political sympathy the negro must go to the Bryan party.

This diatribe is the mental output of a man who appeals to the intelligent American people to elect him their President because of his political wisdom and dignified statesmanlike qualities.

TAFT AS A LEADER.

Chicago Tribune: And it is as a man that the American people will look to him (Taft) as their chief executive. He is a citizen whose democracy is broad, straight and red-blooded. His sympathetic response to the people's needs and aspirations will be unfailing. He has been as one with them throughout his public life. His effective seconding of the President's mail policies has been misinterpreted as mere compliance. It was and is based on an independent political insight into the needs of the times, and it is proof of his fitness to carry on a work in which he has freely and fully shared. The charge of want of independence is known to be false by every one informed on the history of this administration, for it is the President's who did not hesitate to state his difference with his chief, and oftener than others made his difference prevail.

TOMORROW NIGHT THE BIG EVENT

BOXERS ARE IN THE PINK OF CONDITION FOR THE CONTEST

Tomorrow night will be a big one for the Tonopah Athletic Club, as the card the promoters have put up for the benefit of the public is well worthy of the attendance of every lover of the fistie art. Jack (Twin) Sullivan, who has a national reputation, will be one of the principals. His past performance in the roped arena is of such a character that it will convince those attending that the club has secured the services of one of the cleverest and craftiest boxers before the public today. Sullivan is a seasoned ring general who has participated in more than one hundred battles. His opponents have been the best men that have come to the surface in recent years, and many an aspirant for championship honors has gone to defeat before the superior work of the baldheaded boy of New England.

Against Sullivan is pitted Terry Mustain, the pride of Tonopah, and whose friends in Southern Nevada are legion, a boy who is strong and willing and one who will contest every inch of the road to the last ditch. Terry has worked most faithfully for this bout, and it has been harder work than he has ever before done, fully realizing that to defeat Sullivan means everything to him in the future. Since he boxed here last Summer he has improved wonderfully, and his admirers think that he has more than an even break with Sullivan. While on the other hand Jack's friends say that his knowledge of the game will more than offset Mustain's youth and strength. One thing about Terry, as well as about any man who endeavors to carry anything to a successful conclusion, is that he has a world of confidence in himself and that he will lower the colors of the old warhorse tomorrow night. If Terry can win from Sullivan he is on the sure way to climb higher up the ladder.

With the betting fraternity Sullivan's experience carries the most weight with the sports, as several 2 to 1 bets have been made by Goldfield parties on the Twin's chances, as he is a strong favorite in the southern town. Terry's friends, on the other hand, are laying for the odds, thinking that they have a cinch bet.

Charles W. Miller, manager for Mustain, says that Terry is practically through his work and will do just enough to keep him limbered up until the time for his entrance into the ring. He thinks that he has Terry in better condition at the present time than ever before, and the fighter is in perfect form.

The preliminary between Freddie Weeks and Kid Daugherty is one of the best advance cards that has ever been put on. Weeks has a host of admirers in Tonopah, he being employed in the Mizpah Mine, where he has the backing of all the mining fraternity, while Daugherty, who comes well recommended from high sporting authorities, having boxed such men as Grover Hayes, and Young Erbenborn, of Denver, and a number of other topnotchers, will receive the support of the knowing ones. Weeks has met with defeat but once, and that at the hands of the peer of all featherweights—Abe Attell. They are scheduled to go six rounds.

Another preliminary has been added, Jack Lawrence and Howard Troutman, who are in the lightweight class, will box four rounds. This should be a lively mill.

Jack McDonough, one of the best-known referees on the West Coast, and a man who never fails to give good satisfaction, understanding all the fine points of the game, has been prevailed upon to act in that capacity.

The doors will open at 8 o'clock and the preliminaries will start promptly at 8:30. The house will be well ventilated and the evening's entertainment will certainly be a most enjoyable one.

The Tonopah Club will receive full returns by direct wire from the ring-side of the Gans-Nelson battle on the afternoon of July 4th.

ST. MARK'S GUILD.

The regular meeting of St. Mark's Guild has been postponed until Friday, July 10th.
